

March 13th, 2020

Due to circumstances out of our control, we regret to inform you that the 2020 Ilco Van Tour has been suspended until further notice. The health and safety of our business partners, employees and attendees is top priority. We will continue to monitor guidelines set by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and the World Health Organization (WHO) relying on their expertise to assist in our decision-making.

We all understand the extraordinary effort involved in managing such events and truly appreciate the support in these endeavors. Thank you for the ongoing partnership and your sales rep will follow-up with new schedule proposals once the situation is stabilized.

Thank you for being a valuable member of the Ilco network and placing your trust in us. Look forward to continuing these unique experiences very soon.
